When I'm gone

A comprehensive journal containing important information about my wishes, finances, belongings & other affairs.

'Your story is the greatest legacy you will leave to your friends. It's the longest-lasting legacy you will leave to your heirs'

Patti Davis

Introduction

The information contained in this book will be of incalculable value to your family and personal representatives once you are gone or if you become unable to speak for yourself. It provides an all-in-one place for you to gather the most important details about your wishes, health information, legal matters, financial affairs, and daily practical matters.

Consider this a gift for those that are left behind. There is no need to fill every single section in and we understand if you want to keep some information to yourself too!

We recommend you review this annually; around the time you submit your tax returns (the fun never ends!). Although making decisions about what should happen when you are not around can be a heart-breaking exercise, it should also create an overwhelming sense of relief to know the info is up to date.

Storage of this book: we recommend storing this book in a safe place, together with other important documents. You should at least ensure one other person has access to it and knows what to do what the time comes.

Note: this book is not designed to replace your Will or Testament, so it will not determine the disposition of your property in the event of your death.

Message to my survivors: This book is intended to help you navigate smoothly through the particulars of my life.

Important documents

Will and testament

A Will is a legal document that spells out your wishes regarding the care of your children, as well as the distribution of your assets after your death. It is entirely up to you if and when you want to create a Will, but it is important to be aware of the consequences of not having one.

My Will is filed with (tick option that applies) :

Solicitors ☐

Name/Address of Solicitors:

Will filed privately ☐

A copy of my Will can be found here:

I don't have a Will ☐

Without having a Will in place by the time you die, there are certain rules which apply to your estate that are beyond the control of those around you. These rules can result in people not benefiting from your Will that you would otherwise have wanted to.

Funeral wishes

Message to my loved ones:

By putting this funeral plan together, my hope is that it helps my family and friends at a difficult time. I understand that this funeral plan does not legally bind them but hopefully guides them. This plan is to reassure them if they do have questions, that these were my thoughts and wishes.

Post-mortem examination

I understand that in some circumstances, a post-mortem examination is required by law and my family would have no say in the matter. I also understand that a post-mortem examination would give my family the exact cause of my death and they may also be asked to consent to this where it is advisable but not required by law. If I die in circumstances where my family do have a say in the matter then my wishes are:

I should like a post-mortem to be carried out where available to me Yes ☐

I should prefer that a post-mortem examination is not carried out if we can avoid one, but I understand that it may be necessary—and in these circumstances, I do not wish my family to be concerned. Yes ☐

Care of my body before funeral (after release by coroner)

To be cared for by a funeral director Yes ☐

To be returned home and cared for there (I understand that this may require some additional specialist services to be supplied) Yes ☐

To remain in the mortuary until my body is collected for the funeral. (I am aware there will be a mortuary fee for this) Yes ☐
